The College of Arts and Sciences Development Office generates private support from loyal and true alumni and friends to provide resources and opportunities that enrich the academic climate and nurture scholarly excellence for students and faculty members at Oklahoma State University.

The goal of the College of Arts and Sciences is to offer classes that stretch the mind analytically, scientifically, culturally, artistically, and socially. This breadth of information prepares students to think critically and globally.

We are proud to offer a liberal arts education, in addition to more focused studies in the sciences. Every OSU student passes through the College of Arts and Sciences, and we continue to educate our students for the world they will face ahead.

“Through the generosity of the Scheidt family, I was able to concentrate on my studies and focus on getting into graduate school during my senior year at OSU. I’m very, very appreciative of this great ORANGE family. They changed my life,” JEFF FORE, 2006 OSU graduate and recipient of the Matthew Scheidt Memorial Scholarship.
